In 2013, PLI celebrated its 80th Anniversary with two key accomplishments: moving to a new headquarters in midtown Manhattan and expanding our offerings through a strategic acquisition.

PLI signed a lease for 68,000 square feet at the new headquarters located at 1177 Avenue of the Americas (Sixth Avenue), and we faced the challenge of moving not only staff but also our conference facility and attendant multi-media and computer equipment. The entire move and build-out of the new space occurred on schedule and on budget. Thanks to our excellent staff, PLI's new home is fully and, smoothly operating.

The reasons for the move have already been fully justified. PLI now has its own dedicated entrance and sign on the building (see photo) that enhances our visibility. The training center is easily accessible through this entrance and is in a room free of visual obstructions, enhanced by sophisticated multi-media capabilities and a separate faculty room. Finally, the floor plan places the staff on two connected floors rather than the four floors in our previous headquarters.

The other major event of 2013 was the decision to acquire the assets of The SEC Institute, a thirty-year-old organization that has been providing high-quality seminars and workshops in the areas of securities law compliance and accounting. PLI has very strong offerings in securities, and this acquisition broadens our reach in this significant area. The acquisition also allows PLI to continue its expansion to allied professionals such as CFOs, compliance, officers, controllers and accountants practicing in or representing public companies. PLI expects that our current securities offerings can be dovetailed with those of our new division, The SEC Institute, and there will be cross-fertilization of faculty and topics.

PLI's core mission is to train lawyers and allied professionals. We are pleased to report that for the eighth consecutive year, our outreach continues to set new records. In 2013, PLI registrations for all seminars, live, live web, and archived on demand programs reached more than 300,000. This was made possible by offering live and archived program content on PCs, tablets, and mobile devices. We are particularly proud that PLI awarded more than 40,000 scholarships to pro bono attorneys, government lawyers, law students, and others.

The roughly 4,000 volunteer faculty and 300 Treatise authors continue to make invaluable contributions to PLI's efforts and achievements. Assisted by a talented staff, they create the content that supports PLI's programs and publications. PLI continues its efforts in diversity with more than 15% minority and 35% women faculty participating in PLI programs. PLI continued to operate on a sound financial basis this year, thanks again to our excellent staff and the stewardship of our Trustees.

All PLI activities are overseen by our Trustees, who also volunteer their time, sound judgment, and expertise to help guide the staff and set PLI's strategy. In 2013, we welcomed two new Trustees: Ellen M. Cosgrove, Dean of Students at Harvard Law School, who replaced Roberta S. Karmel, and Carol Anne Been of Dentons in Chicago. Ms. Been replaced Stephen J. Friedman, President of Pace University, who retired from the Board.

On a sad note, Edward Cazier, Jr., a PLI Trustee from 1987 until 1998, and Trustee Emeritus since 1998, passed away in February.

Samuel W. Seymour

Victor J. Rubino

2013 was a challenge to continue the momentum of the prior seven years of success. Our staff was pleased to achieve the move to new headquarters on time and on budget. We are adjusting to these wonderful new facilities, which benefit registrants and faculty as well as staff. We also are pleased to welcome our newest Division, The SEC Institute.

Staff met other challenges in 2013, including the change in leadership in the Sales and Marketing Division. We welcome Donald F. Berbarly to PLI's management team. After a thorough search, Don comes to PLI from a distinguished career at Learning Tree. We welcome Don to our group and expect the best from him and the talented staff he now oversees. The importance of this Division lies in the fact that it is responsible for sustaining and increasing Privileged Membership that now number, more than 1,300 law firms, corporate law departments, government agencies, and pro bono groups, including more than 220,000 lawyers and allied professionals.

The Sales and Marketing Division also has primary sales responsibility for our fast-developing online research tool Discover PLUS. Developed by an inspired librarian group, this online search tool includes all of PLI's published materials as well as program transcripts and more than 3,000 forms including checklists.

Quality is the key to PLI's success. The Program and the Publishing Divisions create the very high-quality content which is the hallmark of PLI products. More than 400 live programs are presented annually along with an additional 120 acclaimed one-hour briefings on every hot topic imaginable. For example, just two days after the SEC amendments to its rules governing private placements were adopted, PLI presented a briefing attracting more than 300 registrants. In addition to our "tent pole" Institutes in Securities, Tax, Communications, Telecommunications, Patent, and Intellectual Property, PLI presents many specialized programs and looks to refresh the curriculum each year. 2013 was a groundbreaking year as we expanded our offerings in Asia (The First Annual Institute on Corporate Securities Law in Hong Kong) and South America (The First Annual Institute on Current Developments in Latin American Cross-Border Securities Transactions in São Paulo, Brazil).

As a result of critical business and legislative changes, PLI offered many new programs in 2013. These new programs included: "Cybersecurity 2013: Managing the Risk", "Nuts and Bolts of Tax Penalties: A Primer on Standards, Procedures and Defenses Relating to Civil and Criminal Tax Penalties", "From the Trenches: High Profile Trials 2013", "Global Trademark Search and Application Workshop" as well as a number of new pro bono courses focusing on representing the Pro Bono Client in housing, domestic violation, and immigration, to name a few. We are also proud of the contributions made by PLI's Patent Office Registration Exam Course, which annually qualifies a high percentage of new lawyers, law students, and engineers eligible to practice before the Patent and Trade Office (PTO).

As for Treatises, the mainstays of the 117 titles include: Securities Law and Practice Deskbook, Public Company Deskbook, Trial Handbook, Friedman on Leases, Kane on Trademark Law, Faber on Mechanics of Patent Claim Drafting, Manning on Estate Planning, and Sack on Defamation. In 2013, PLI published four new Treatises, and four new Answer Books, as well as thirteen Treatise new editions, twelve Answer Book new editions, and eighty-nine supplements to our Treatises. The PLI Answer Books provide coverage of discrete practice areas in a convenient and easy-to-use Q&A format.

Quality is also enhanced by new and different presentation techniques, in addition to an annual program for faculty on this topic. PLI has a small R&D Department that is producing prototypes of different ways to present content, such as Massive Open Online Courses (MOOCs), simulations, and sophisticated game techniques. These efforts help support those of the Program Attorney staff who continually work with the volunteer faculty on using technology in programs, case studies, mock negotiation and role play, the use of audience feedback mechanisms, and other adult learning approaches to help make the content more interesting and compelling.

Quality also comes in other forms, such as getting MCLE certificates on time, and more than 240,000 certificates were supplied this year in most cases with astonishing speed. Quality also comes in the form of timely marketing, responsive customer service, and friendly and helpful conference staff. Unseen by many but critical to a smooth operating environment are the CIO, CFO, and HR Divisions. All of this professional support backup and assist those staff dealing directly with customers and faculty. The entire staff deserves credit for the successes of 2013.

On a sad note, two former longtime staff passed away in early 2014—Barbara Bergen, our former CIO, and June McDonald, a longtime head of sales. We shall miss them.

Victor J. Rubino
President

REPORT OF INDEPENDENT CERTIFIED PUBLIC ACCOUNTANTS

To the Board of Trustees of the Practising Law Institute

We have audited the accompanying financial statements of the Practising Law Institute (the "Institute"), which comprise the statements of financial position as of December 31, 2013 and 2012, and the related statements of activities and cash flows for the years then ended, and the related notes to the financial statements.

Management's responsibility for the financial statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America; this includes the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits. We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audits to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the Institute's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Institute's internal control. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Opinion

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Practising Law Institute as of December 31, 2013 and 2012, and the changes in its net assets and its cash flows for the years then ended in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

1. ORGANIZATION

Practising Law Institute (the "Institute") is a not-for-profit organization founded in 1933 and chartered by the Regents of the University of the State of New York. The Institute provides the legal community with continuing professional education through lecture programs, publications and educational software.

The Internal Revenue Service has ruled that the Institute is a Section 501(c)(3) organization exempt from Federal income taxes under Section 501(a) of the Internal Revenue Code (the "IRC"). The Institute has been classified as a publicly supported charitable organization under Section 509(a)(2) of the IRC. The Institute also is exempt from state and local income taxes.

2. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

The following is a summary of the significant accounting policies followed by the Institute in the preparation of the accompanying financial statements:

Basis of Presentation

Net assets, revenues, expenses, gains and losses are classified based on the existence or absence of donor-imposed restrictions. Accordingly, all of the Institute's net assets are classified as unrestricted as they are available for general use and operating activities without any donor imposed restrictions.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosures of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents include financial instruments with maturities at the date of purchase of three months or less and exclude cash and cash equivalents held in the Institute's investment management account which are considered to be held for long-term purposes.

Investments

Investments in publicly traded securities are recorded at fair market value generally determined on the basis of quoted market prices. Investments in mutual funds are carried at fair value as determined by the investment managers or general partners. Investments in hedge funds are carried at fair value based upon their stated net asset value. Purchases and sales of securities are reflected on a trade-date basis. Gains and losses on sales of securities are based on average costs and are recorded in the statements of activities in the period in which the securities are sold. Interest is recognized as earned. Dividends are recognized as of the ex-dividend date.

Accounts Receivable and Allowance for Doubtful Accounts

Accounts receivable relate primarily to program, publication and membership revenue. Management provides an allowance for doubtful accounts for estimated losses that may result from the inability of its customer to make required payments based on the consideration of the type of receivable, responsible party, the known financial condition of the customer, historical collection patterns and comparative aging. These allowances are maintained at a level management considers adequate to provide for subsequent adjustments and potential uncollectible accounts. These estimates are reviewed periodically and if the financial condition of a party changes significantly the Institute will evaluate the recoverability of any accounts receivable from that customer and write off any amounts that are no longer considered to be recoverable. Any payments subsequently received on such receivables are recorded as income in the period received.

Inventories

Inventories consist of books in process of approximately $123,000 and $130,000 and completed books and audio/video tapes of approximately $342,000 and $414,000 at December 31, 2013 and 2012, respectively. The Institute utilizes the weighted average method of capturing inventory costs. Costs include paper, printing, binding, taping and outside editorial costs, and are valued at the lower of average cost or market.

Fixed Assets

The Institute capitalizes all expenditures for fixed assets in excess of $1,000. Furniture and equipment are stated at cost and are depreciated over periods ranging from three to six years using the straight-line basis. Computer software and website costs are being amortized over a two to seven year period from the time the asset is placed into service. Leasehold improvements are amortized over the shorter of their estimated useful lives or terms of the leases.

Computer software includes purchased software and capitalized software development costs. Purchased software is recorded at cost and all software is amortized using the straight-line method over its estimated useful life.

Fair Value of Financial Instruments

The carrying amounts of cash and cash equivalents, receivables, prepaid expenses, other assets, accounts payable and accrued expenses approximate fair value due to the short-term maturity of these financial instruments.

Revenue Recognition

Revenue from lecture programs is recognized at the time the program is held. Revenue from subscriptions to publications is recognized pro-rata over the subscription period. Memberships fees are received in exchange for benefits provided by the Institute and are recognized pro-rata over the membership period. Revenue from book orders is recognized at the time of shipment, except for book supplements which are deferred until accepted by the subscriber, which the Institute has determined to be 30 days. Amounts received in advance of recognition are recorded as deferred revenue.

Donated Services

Volunteer instructional services provided by attorneys and others in the legal profession have not been reflected in the accompanying financial statements as the nature of these services does not meet the criteria for recognition of contributed services under generally accepted accounting principles in the United States of America.

Scholarships

Scholarships given to seminar participants principally for financial need totaled approximately $17,812,000 and $13,936,000 in 2013 and 2012, respectively.

Expense Allocations

Direct expenses are assigned to the various programs and supporting services based upon actual costs incurred. Indirect expenses are principally allocated based on square footage or headcount.

Fair Value Measurements

The Institute follows guidance which establishes a framework for measuring fair value, expands disclosures about fair value measurements and provides a consistent definition of fair value, which focuses on an exit price between market participants in an orderly transaction. The guidance also prioritizes, within the measurement of fair value, the use of market-based information over entity-specific information and establishes a three-level hierarchy for fair value measurements based on the transparency of information used in the valuation of an asset or liability as of the measurement date. Assets and liabilities measured and reported at fair value are classified and disclosed in one of the following categories:

Level 1 - Quoted prices are available in active markets for identical assets or liabilities as of the reporting date. The type of investments in Level 1 include listed equities held in the name of the Institute, and exclude listed equities and other securities held indirectly through commingled funds.

Level 2 - Pricing inputs, including broker quotes, are generally those other than exchange quoted prices in active markets, which are either directly or indirectly observable as of the measurement date, and fair value is determined through the use of models or other valuation methodologies. Also included in Level 2 are investments using a net asset value ("NAV") per share, or its equivalent, that may be redeemed at NAV at the statement of financial position date or in the near term, which the Institute has determined to be within ninety days.

Level 3 - Pricing inputs are unobservable for the assets or liability and includes situations where there is little, if any, market activity for the assets or liability. The inputs into the determination of fair value require significant management judgment or estimation. Investments that are included in this category generally include privately held investments and partnership interests.

Advertising

The Institute expenses the costs of advertising as incurred, except for direct-response advertising. Direct-response advertising consists primarily of the costs to produce promotional mailings that contain coded order forms and coupons for specific seminars and publications. These costs are capitalized and expensed during the period in which the seminars are held or upon the sale of the specific publications.

Advertising costs totaling approximately $345,000 and $447,000 are included in prepaid expenses at December 31, 2013 and 2012. Advertising expense for the years ended December 31, 2013 and 2012 totaled approximately $2,410,000 and $3,112,000, respectively.

Concentration of Credit Risk

The Institute's bank accounts are insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation up to an aggregate amount of $250,000. At times, the Institute's cash balance held in its bank accounts exceeds the Federally insured limits. However, the Institute has not experienced, nor does it anticipate any losses with respect to these bank accounts.

Measure of Operations

Operations include all revenues and expenses other than investment income, related investment advisory fees and pension related expense other than net periodic pension expense.

Income Taxes

The Institute recognizes the tax effects from an uncertain tax position in the financial statements only if the position is "more-likely-than-not" to be sustained if the position were to be challenged by a taxing authority. The assessment of the tax position is based solely on the technical merits of the position, without regard to the likelihood that the tax position may be challenged. As of December 31, 2013, management determined that there are no uncertain tax positions within its financial statements.

The Institute is exempt from Federal income taxation by virtue of being an organization described in Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code. Nevertheless, the Institute may be subject to tax on income unrelated to its exempt purpose, unless that income is otherwise excluded by the Code. The tax years ending December 31, 2010, 2011, and 2012 are still open to audit for both Federal and state purposes.

For the year ended December 31, 2013, interest only payments were due in monthly installments. Beginning in 2014, both principal and interest payments will be due in monthly installments. The Institute pledged certain shares of stock as collateral for the loan (Note 3). The loan proceeds were used to fund leasehold improvements associated with the Institute's relocation of its headquarters during the year ended December 31, 2013.

The lease payments are subject to increases for taxes and other building expenses. During the year ended December 31, 2013, the Institute relocated its headquarters and entered into a new lease agreement. The terms of the new lease agreement include both landlord contributions toward the cost of the construction related to the new office space as well as rent abatements during and after the construction period. The Institute's lease on its previous headquarters ends in February 2014. As such, for the year ended December 31, 2013, the Institute recorded rent expense for its previous and new headquarters. Due to the rent abatements associated with the new lease, no cash payments were required for the year ended December 31, 2013 with regards to the new lease. Rent expense is recognized on a straight-line basis, inclusive of landlord contributions and rent abatements, over the respective lease term and totaled approximately $10,088,000 and $6,062,000 in 2013 and 2012, respectively. Excess rented office space has been sublet through the term of the previous headquarters lease agreement. Such rental income totaled approximately $1,197,000 and $1,127,000 in 2013 and 2012, respectively, and is reflected as a reduction in administrative expense.

Employer contributions for 2013 and 2012 amounted to approximately $1,443,000 and $1,291,000, respectively.

Deferred Compensation

Postretirement Health Plan

The Institute provides certain health insurance benefits for retired employees. Substantially all of the Institute's employees may become eligible for those benefits if they reach minimal retirement age of 50 with 20 years of service or age 60 with 15 years of service with the Institute. The Institute funds its postretirement benefits costs on a cash basis.

The Institute's actuary performed the computations required for financial statement disclosure as of December 31, 2013 and 2012. Employee data as of January 1, 2013 and 2012 were projected forward to the December 31, 2013 and 2012 measurement date. The following table presents a reconciliation of the changes in the Institute's postretirement health insurance obligations and a reconciliation of the funded status of the amounts recognized in the Institute's statements of financial position at December 31, 2013 and 2012:

	2013	2012
Reconciliation of benefit obligation:
Accrued postretirement benefit obligation, beginning of year	$7,695,000	$7,289,000
Service cost	391,000	399,000
Interest cost	318,000	347,000
Participant contributions	38,000	32,000
Actuarial net (gain) loss	(791,000)	718,000
Amendments	-	(798,000)
Benefit payments	(428,000)	(292,000)
Postretirement benefit obligation, end of year	$7,223,000	$7,695,000
Fair value of plan assets	$-	$-

The following table provides the approximate net periodic postretirement benefit cost for the Institute for the years ended December 31, 2013 and 2012:

	2013	2012
Service cost	$391,000	$399,000
Interest cost	318,000	347,000
Net amortization and deferral	(67,000)	(17,000)
Net periodic postretirement benefit cost	$642,000	$729,000

The following table represents the reconciliation of the funded status of the plan:

	2013	2012
Fair value of plan assets	$-	$-
Benefit obligation	(7,223,000)	(7,695,000)
Funded status	(7,223,000)	(7,695,000)
Unrecognized net (gain) loss	(335,000)	389,000
Net amount recognized	$(7,558,000)	$(7,306,000)
Weighted-average assumptions:
Discount rate	4.98%	4.09%
Rate of compensation increase	4.00%	4.00%

The discount rate reflects the rate of return on high quality fixed income securities.

The average annual assumed rates of increase in the per capita cost of medical and dental benefits are 7% for 2012, 6.67% for 2013 grading down to 4.5% in 2021, and are assumed to remain at that level thereafter.

Assumed health care cost trend rates have a significant effect on the amounts reported. A 1% change in assumed health care cost trend rates would have the following effects as of December 31, 2013:

	1% Increase	1% Decrease
Effect on total of service and interest cost components	$ 145,000	$ 112,000
Effect on the postretirement benefit obligation	1,306,000	1,043,000

On December 8, 2003, the Medicare Prescription Drug, Improvement and Modernization Act of 2003 (the "Act") was signed into law. This law introduced a prescription drug benefit under Medicare. The employee obligations and post-retirement costs in the financial statements reflect the effects of the Act.

The approximate benefits expected to be paid in the next ten years are as follows:

Fiscal year ending:	Gross Benefit Payments	Gross Subsidy Receipts	Net Benefit Payments
2014	$280,000	$19,000	$261,000
2015	307,000	19,000	288,000
2016	313,000	22,000	291,000
2017	338,000	22,000	316,000
2018	339,000	24,000	315,000
2019 to 2023	1,968,000	144,000	1,824,000
