About the Editor

Clifford E. Kirsch (editor; author of chapters 11, 13, 14, 16, 18, 19, 20, and 22; and co-author of chapters 1, 8, and 12) is a partner with Eversheds Sutherland, New York City. Prior to this, he was Vice President and Senior Corporate Counsel at the Prudential Insurance Company of America. From 1985 to 1994, Mr. Kirsch was on the Staff of the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission, Division of Investment Management, in Washington, D.C. At the SEC, he held several positions, including Assistant Director in the Office of Insurance Products, and was a recipient of the Manuel F. Cohen Younger Lawyer Award.

Mr. Kirsch teaches at the University of Pennsylvania Law School, and previously taught at Georgetown University Law Center. He serves as chair for two annual American Law Institute/American Bar Association Course Offerings: Investment Management Regulation and Investment Adviser Regulation. He also is Chairman of the NASD’s Variable Insurance Products Committee.

About the Contributors

John T. Adney (Chapter 4) is a partner at Davis & Harman LLP, practicing primarily in the areas of taxation and insurance law. Since 1977, he has engaged in an insurance product taxation advisory, ruling, and audit practice, covering universal life insurance, variable life insurance, group-term life insurance, COLI, fixed and variable annuities, and long-term care insurance. During the same period, he has engaged in extensive advisory, ruling, and audit work relating to insurance company taxation. In addition, since 1981, Mr. Adney has been involved in legislative representation of insurance companies on tax matters relating to those companies and their products, including the enactment or revision of Internal Revenue Code sections 72, 101(f), 101(g), 801–08, 846, 1035, 7702, 7702A, and 7702B. In 1985, he helped organize Davis & Harman, serving as the firm’s first managing partner.

Mr. Adney received his B.A., summa cum laude, from Millikin University in 1972 and his J.D. from Yale Law School in 1975. He served as a law clerk for the Trial Division of the U.S. Court of Claims in 1975 and 1976, and then clerked for Judge Marion T. Bennett of the U.S. Court of Claims in 1976 and 1977.

Cynthia J. Borrelli (Chapter 8A) is a partner at Bressler, Amery & Ross, PC and directs the firm’s Insurance Law practice group. Her practice also includes participation in the firm’s Executive Compensation & Employee Benefits and Labor and Employment practice groups. Her insurance practice is dedicated primarily to matters affecting corporate regulatory and enforcement aspects of insurance law. The scope of her practice comprises a broad range of client engagements relating to property-casualty and life, annuity and health, managed care, disability insurance, and reinsurance matters. She works closely with attorneys in the firm’s Taxation, Executive Compensation & Employee Benefits, and Workers’ Compensation practice groups on issues relating to employee benefits and executive compensation, ERISA welfare benefit plans (including insurance funding mechanisms for health and pension plans and plan design), agent disputes, workers’ compensation benefits, and related issues. She also chairs the firm’s Diversity Committee.

Ms. Borrelli has published and lectured on insurance-related topics frequently before national organizations. She is an active participant in National Association of Insurance Commissioners matters. She has served as Chair of the Public Regulation of Insurance Law Committee of the Tort and Insurance Practice Section of the American Bar Association, and as a Vice-Chair of the Life Insurance Law Committee. Ms. Borrelli remains active on both Committees.

Ms. Borrelli serves on the Board of Directors of the Federation of Regulatory Counsel. She is a former Legal Committee member of the National Organization of Life and Health Insurance Guaranty Associations, a current member of the Legal Committee of the National Conference of Insurance Guaranty Funds, a member of the Federation of Defense and Corporate Counsel, the New Jersey State Bar Association Diversity Committee, the Association of Professional Insurance Women and the New Jersey Chapter of Risk Insurance Management Society.

David N. Brown (Chapter 25) is a Senior Counsel in the Washington, D.C. office of Covington & Burling LLP, where his practice involves various aspects of corporate and securities law. He has advised life insurance companies, general agencies, and producer groups regarding the federal securities laws as they relate to variable products. Mr. Brown has also advised private equity fund sponsors regarding the formation of funds and the application of federal securities laws to their operations. He has focused recently on privately placed variable life insurance. Mr. Brown received his bachelor’s degree from Cornell University and his J.D. from the University of Chicago. He is a member of the Bar of the District of Columbia and the American Bar Association.

Kerry Shannon Burke (Chapter 25) is a partner in the Washington, D.C. office of Covington & Burling LLP in the corporate and securities practice areas. The focus of Ms. Burke’s practice is on capital markets and securities transactions. She has a broad range of experience representing companies, underwriters, and other institutional investors in private and public debt and equity financings. Ms. Burke also regularly advises on general corporate and federal securities law matters. Specifically, Ms. Burke has provided assistance on issues related to registered and unregistered investment advisers and registered broker-dealers, including on various status questions and ongoing compliance matters.

Paul G. Cellupica (Chapter 26) is the Managing Director and General Counsel, Securities Law, of TIAA. He was formerly the Chief Counsel for Securities Products and Regulation in the Law Department of MetLife, Inc., where he was responsible for legal issues involving MetLife’s registered variable insurance products, broker-dealers, mutual funds, and SEC and NASD regulatory inquiries. Prior to joining MetLife at the end of 2004, Mr. Cellupica served at the U.S.
Richard T. Choi (Chapter 21) is a partner at Carlton Fields Jorden Burt, P.A. As a member of the firm’s variable insurance products/investment company group, he advises life insurance companies, mutual funds, broker-dealers, and investment advisers regarding various aspects of federal securities and income tax law matters, as well as state insurance and securities law matters. Mr. Choi has published articles and is a frequent speaker on federal securities and NASD issues relating to the use of electronic media to market variable insurance products. He earned his bachelor’s degree at the University of Chicago and his law degree at the University of Virginia School of Law. Mr. Choi is a member of the Virginia Bar, the Bar of the District of Columbia, and the American Bar Association. He serves on the Regulatory Affairs Committee of the National Association for Variable Annuities.

Elizabeth A. Diffley (Chapter 17) is a partner in the Corporate & Securities Practice Group of Drinker Biddle & Reath LLP. Ms. Diffley concentrates her practice in securities law compliance, mergers and acquisitions, banking and corporate finance transactions, and corporate governance. She joined Drinker Biddle from Sullivan & Cromwell in Paris, where her practice primarily involved cross-border securities offerings and compliance with U.S. securities laws and reporting obligations. Ms. Diffley earned her J.D., magna cum laude, from the University of Pennsylvania, where she was an articles editor of the Law Review. She received her bachelor’s degree, summa cum laude, in economics from the Wharton School of the University of Pennsylvania.

Jack Ewing (Chapter 12) is Vice President and Corporate Counsel with the Prudential Insurance Company of America, where he concentrates on product development, compliance, and distribution issues for traditional and variable life insurance and annuity products. Prior to joining Prudential, Mr. Ewing was an associate in the Philadelphia office of the Dechert law firm, where he specialized in ERISA, tax, and securities law issues of employee benefit plans and executive compensation. He received his B.S. from Rutgers University and his J.D., with highest honors, from Rutgers School of Law–Newark.

Wendell M. Faria (Chapter 3) is Of Counsel to Paul Hastings LLP. He concentrates his practice in the area of investment management, particularly on matters involving the regulation of investment companies and investment advisers under the federal securities laws, and in the offering of equity-oriented insurance contracts. Mr. Faria was formerly with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission in Washington, D.C., in the SEC’s Division of Investment Management. He served as the Deputy Chief and as the Acting Chief of the Division’s Office of Insurance Products, responsible for the regulation of certain equity-oriented insurance contracts (such as variable annuities, variable life policies, modified guaranteed annuities, and guaranteed investment contracts). He frequently speaks at conferences dealing with investment management issues, and is an Adjunct Professor of Law at Georgetown University Law Center, where he teaches securities law.

Evan Giller (Chapter 27) is Of Counsel to Boutwell Fay, LLP, a law firm specializing in employee benefits and ERISA. Mr. Giller’s practice focuses on issues relating to the employee benefit plans of tax-exempt organizations and governments, including 403(b) plans, 457 plans, qualified plans, and fiduciary issues. His practice also includes advising on the design and regulation of investment products for retirement plans. Prior to his current position, Mr. Giller was a founding member of the firm of Giller & Calhoun, LLC. He also spent over twenty years at TIAA-CREF, where he served as Vice President and General Counsel, Institutional Client Services, and managed the Pension Law Unit. Mr. Giller is a member of the New York City Bar Association, where he is currently serving on the Committee on Employee Benefits and Executive Compensation. He received his J.D. from the State University of New York at Buffalo Law School.

Gary E. Jenkins (Chapter 3A) is currently Deputy General Counsel for the Insurance Solutions business of Voya Financial, which includes its individual life and group insurance business lines. Mr. Jenkins has had a long career in the financial services industry, providing legal advice regarding the development, sale, and administration of institutional and retail products/services across investment management, banking, and insurance industries, with a focus on managing regulatory, legislative, and compliance risks. Prior to joining Voya Financial, he served as General Counsel of CitiStreet LLC, a joint venture of State Street Bank and Trust Company and Citigroup, providing recordkeeping services for defined contribution, defined benefit, and health and welfare plans. Before CitiStreet, he held the position of Division Counsel for State Street Bank and Trust Company’s 401(k) recordkeeping business. Mr. Jenkins has a broad background and knowledge of ERISA, federal securities laws, and state insurance laws. During his career, he has worked closely with various federal and state regulators on matters relevant to the banking, investment management, retirement, and insurance industries. Mr. Jenkins is a graduate of Columbia College, earned his law degree from Washington University School of Law, and holds a Master’s in Taxation from the University of Miami.

Weiyen “Ann” Jonas [Chapter 27] is a Vice President and Associate General Counsel at Fidelity Investments. Ms. Jonas advises on legal matters affecting the retirement plans of tax-exempt and governmental employers, including 401(k), 403(b), and 457 plans, under the Internal Revenue Code, ERISA, and other federal and state laws. Ms. Jonas graduated cum laude from Harvard Law School and received her B.S. in business administration from Georgetown University, graduating magna cum laude. Ms. Jonas previously practiced employee benefits law at Goodwin Procter LLC, and was employed as a tax accountant and CPA for Price Waterhouse, prior to law school. She frequently presents at conferences, and has taught ERISA and Employee Benefits Law at Suffolk University Law School in Boston. Ms. Jonas is a member of the Texas and Massachusetts bars.

Dodie Kent [Chapter 1] is a partner at Eversheds Sutherland. With more than 20 years of experience as corporate counsel in the financial services industry, Ms. Kent advises on product design, marketing, and administrative issues as they relate to variable and fixed life insurance and annuity products. She also has particular experience counseling on related regulatory compliance and enforcement issues. Ms. Kent focuses on many novel and complex insurer initiatives, including the de-risking of legacy product offerings; the design and regulation of index-linked investments; issues related to the use of volatility management; and the simplification of variable annuity disclosure. Ms. Kent’s in-depth knowledge of these topics—particularly variable life and annuity insurance regulations and issues—makes her a sought-after speaker at industry conferences. Her years as corporate counsel provide her with a practical, results-oriented understanding of insurance companies’ internal processes and competing business inputs related to product development, distribution and administration. Ms. Kent joined Eversheds Sutherland (US) from one of the world’s leading insurance and asset management groups, where she served as Vice President, Lead Director and Associate General Counsel. in the Insurance Practice Group of its U.S. holdings. There, she served as the company's principal legal securities advisor regarding its variable and fixed life and annuity product lines. Ms. Kent was recognized by The Legal 500 United States in the area of insurance: non-contentious (2016). She received her B.A. from Gettysburg College and her J.D. from New York Law School.

Michael Kmiecik (Chapter 24) is currently Vice President of Compliance at the Prudential Insurance Company in Newark, New Jersey. Prior to joining Prudential, he was associate counsel at New York Life Insurance Company. Mr. Kmiecik graduated from SUNY Buffalo Law School in 1979.

Daniel W. Krane (Chapter 17) is a partner in the Corporate and Securities Group of Drinker Biddle & Reath LLP. Mr. Krane advises insurance and financial services clients on corporate, transactional and regulatory matters, business formations, mergers and acquisitions, holding company transactions, reinsurance, product design and distribution, regulatory examinations, compliance, internal investigations, and delinquency proceedings. He has particular experience advising insurance companies and their affiliates, including broker-dealers, agencies, advisors and mutual funds, in connection with structuring compliance programs and related investigations. Mr. Krane graduated from the Pennsylvania State University in 1981 and from Dickinson School of Law in 1985, where he was elected to the Order of the Barristers and served as an editor of the Dickinson Journal of International Law. He is a member of numerous bar associations and trade groups, and has presented before NAIC working groups on various topics. Recently, Mr. Krane has served as an Adjunct Faculty Member at the Rutgers School of Law–Newark for an advanced insurance course. He has been active on committees and task forces involved with drafting insurance, financial services, and healthcare laws, and frequently writes and lectures on these topics.

Susan S. Krawczyk (Chapter 15) is a partner in the Washington, D.C. office of Eversheds Sutherland, where her practice focuses on federal and state regulation of insurance, financial, and investment products. She counsels insurers, mutual fund sponsors, banks, and financial product distributors in developing products, establishing distribution and marketing arrangements, and implementing appropriate compliance systems and procedures. She works closely with insurers as well as distributors in structuring and negotiating joint venture and marketing arrangements for insurance products and insurance product funds. She also advises clients on wrap fee programs, financial planning programs, and networking arrangements for banks and insurance agencies. Ms. Krawczyk represents clients before the Securities and Exchange Commission and the National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc. She is a member of and serves on several industry committees focusing on sales and marketing practices. Ms. Krawczyk is a member of the District of Columbia Bar and the Virginia State Bar. She received a J.D. degree from George Washington University National Law Center in 1984.

Ben Marzouk (Chapter 18) is an associate in the Washington, D.C. office of Eversheds Sutherland. Mr. Marzouk is a financial services attorney who advises broker-dealers and investment advisers on their regulatory compliance matters with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) and the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority (FINRA), as well as state rules and regulations. Before joining Eversheds Sutherland as an associate, Mr. Marzouk participated in the firm’s Summer Associate Program in 2010 where he assisted primarily with financial services matters. He previously worked as an analyst for a global consulting firm where he analyzed testing documents as part of a large-scale SAP implementation for the United States Army’s financial branch. Mr. Marzouk is admitted to the Virginia State Bar. His work is supervised by District of Columbia bar members. He received his B.A., magna cum laude, from the College of William and Mary, and his J.D. from the University of Virginia School of Law, where he served as President of the William Minor Lile Moot Court Board, and on the Editorial Board of The Virginia Journal of Social Policy & the Law.

Michael J. Mazza (Chapter 8), Assistant General Counsel in the Law Department of The Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Company, is responsible for legal issues involving Northwestern Mutual’s variable insurance products. His responsibilities include filing registration statements with the SEC and advising on issues related to variable annuity and variable life insurance product development, administration, distribution, and compliance. Prior to joining Northwestern Mutual in 2003, Mr. Mazza clerked for the Honorable John L. Coffey of the United States Court of Appeals for the Seventh Circuit and worked in private practice in the areas of estate planning and employee benefits. Mr. Mazza graduated summa cum laude in 1999 from the Marquette University Law School, where he served as Editor-in-Chief of the Marquette Law Review, and where he now teaches a class on investment company and investment adviser regulation as an Adjunct Associate Professor of Law.

Joseph F. McKeever, III (Chapter 4) is a partner at Davis & Harman LLP, practicing primarily in the areas of taxation and insurance law. Mr. McKeever represents life insurance companies throughout North America, advising these companies on a wide variety of federal income tax issues, including issues associated with the design, development and marketing of annuities and life insurance contracts. He also represents companies on tax controversies in both Internal Revenue Service administrative proceedings and in the federal courts. Mr. McKeever has an extensive practice in the IRS National Office with respect to requests for private letter rulings, requests for technical advice, and other miscellaneous proceedings. In addition, he represents many life insurance companies in legislative matters.

Mr. McKeever graduated with a B.A. in history from George Washington University in 1972. He obtained his law degree (with high honors) from George Washington University in 1978, where he was elected to the Order of the Coif. During 1978–79, he served as law clerk to Trial Judge Harry Wood at the United States Court of Claims, and during 1979–80, he was law clerk to former Chief Judge Wilson Cowen of the United States Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit.

Christopher E. Palmer (Chapters 6 & 10) is a partner in the law firm of Goodwin Procter LLP. He is the leader of the Business Law Department in Goodwin Procter’s Washington, D.C. office, and is a member of the Financial Services Group. Mr. Palmer focuses his practice on securities, investment management and insurance matters. He represents mutual funds, investment advisers, insurance companies, and broker-dealers on the development, regulatory approval, sale, and administration of a variety of investment products, including mutual funds and variable and fixed life insurance and annuity contracts. He also represents mutual fund independent directors, and advises companies on securities law matters, including reporting and corporate governance matters. In addition, he also represents companies in financial services litigation, in SEC inspections and enforcement actions, and before state insurance departments. Mr. Palmer was a partner at Shea & Gardner prior to its combination with Goodwin Procter in 2004. After graduating magna cum laude from the Georgetown University Law Center in 1986, he served as a Court Law Clerk for the U.S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit.

Christopher S. Petito (Chapter 2) is Of Counsel in the Washington, D.C. office of Willkie Farr & Gallagher LLP. Mr. Petito concentrates in investment company, investment adviser, and broker-dealer federal and state securities law matters. His practice includes all aspects of the design, organization, and registration of investment companies and related insurance products, as well as providing regulatory counseling. Mr. Petito has also represented regulated entities before federal and state securities regulators in connection with exemptive applications, no-action requests, and regulatory examinations, investigations, and enforcement proceedings.

William A. Schmidt (Chapter 5) is a partner in the Washington, D.C. office of K&L Gates LLP. He works in the areas of institutional investing and employee benefits, with particular emphasis on fiduciary responsibility matters under the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974. Mr. Schmidt advises major financial institutions, including banks, insurance companies, registered investment advisers and large employee benefit plans about ERISA restrictions relating to plan investments and to fee arrangements for investment management and plan administrative services. He was formerly Counsel for Regulation in the Plan Benefits Security Division of the Office of the Solicitor of the U.S. Department of Labor, where he was responsible for providing legal advice with respect to the Department's regulatory, interpretive, and legislative activities under ERISA. Mr. Schmidt serves as an Adjunct Professor of Law at Georgetown University Law Center.

Holly H. Smith (Chapter 23) is a partner at Eversheds Sutherland in the Washington, D.C. office. Prior to becoming associated with Eversheds Sutherland, she was an Associate Director in the SEC’s Division of Market Regulation, where she participated in writing and overseeing the implementation of rules governing the U.S. equity and options markets. While at the SEC, Ms. Smith also served as legal counsel to Commissioner Mary L. Schapiro. She is also a former legal counsel of the Internal Review Department at the National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc. Ms. Smith devotes her practice to counseling clients on compliance with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and the rules of the NASD and other self-regulatory organizations.

C. Christopher Sprague (Chapters 7 & 9) has been Vice President and Corporate Counsel with Prudential Insurance Company since 1994. At Prudential, he specializes in compliance, product development, and distribution issues for variable life, variable annuities, and mutual funds. Mr. Sprague also deals with investment adviser and broker/dealer issues for one of Prudential's broker-dealers. Prior to 1994, Mr. Sprague was Senior Counsel in the SEC’s Division of Investment Management, where he worked on a variety of issues under the Investment Company Act and the Investment Advisers Act. Mr. Sprague has spoken at a number of industry conferences concerning variable insurance products, including ALI-ABA, the Securities Industry Association, and the National Association for Variable Annuities. He is a graduate of Yale University and New York University Law School.
Kristina M. Zanotti (chapter 5) is a partner in the Washington, D.C. office of K&L Gates LLP in the investment management practice group, concentrating in the ERISA Fiduciary and Derivatives practice areas. In the ERISA Fiduciary practice area, Ms. Zanotti has substantial experience advising clients regarding fiduciary responsibility matters under ERISA. Ms. Zanotti assists investment advisers, banks and trust companies, fund complexes, and other financial institutions, in navigating ERISA’s prohibited transaction restrictions and exemptions. Ms. Zanotti co-authors chapters on ERISA in two corporate and securities law treatises for the Practicing Law Institute and also teaches a class on ERISA for the D.C. Bar. In the Derivatives area, Ms. Zanotti represents financial services clients in connection with swap and other derivatives transactions and in negotiating master agreements, including ISDAs, Master Repurchase Agreements, Master Securities Forward Transaction Agreements, futures agreements, cleared derivatives documentation, and related agreements.
